C.1.3 DEFINITIONS AND ACRONYMS

Service Descriptions for DDS: definitions of terms is found on the DDS website; <http://dds.dc.gov/node/721742>

C.2 BACKGROUND

C.2.1 The District of Columbia Department on Disability Services (DDS), through its Developmental Disabilities Administration (DDA) administers the Medicaid Home and Community-Based Services (HCBS) waiver, which includes long term supports for persons with intellectual and developmental disabilities in supported employment, residential services, and in-home services. The District is expanding its cadre of behavior support professionals who have expertise in serving adults with intellectual disabilities and co-occurring behavioral challenges. Challenging behavior can have serious effects on a person's daily functioning by interfering with educational and vocational activities, by jeopardizing residential placements and by disrupting family and peer relationships. The presence of behavioral challenges can greatly reduce the quality of life for persons with intellectual disabilities.

C.2.2 This expansion would specifically address the need to increase the number of Licensed Clinical Psychologists and Board Certified Behavior Analysts qualified to provide Behavior Support Services including completing functional behavioral assessments and developing Behavior Support Plans (BSPs). The District aims to increase the pool of behavior support professionals who are able to create person-centered BSPs and provide ongoing behavioral support services in accordance with District Regulations. This initiative shall not only enhance the current system of behavior support services but shall expand the District's capacity to offer applied behavior analysis, trauma informed interventions, and forensic support services.

- C.2.3 In an effort to meet the specific Court orders in Evans v. Gray, the District of Columbia previously contracted for this service, including the conducting of assessments and developing BSPs for individuals identified with behavioral challenges, assessing identified individual BSPs for effectiveness and developing new or modified plans as necessary to improve individual outcomes, assessing identified individual behavioral support plans for effectiveness and determine the need for continuing the plans and determine alternatives in lieu of formal BSPs, and providing in-home training to residential providers and their direct care professional staff on the implementation of BSPs.
- C.2.4 The District proposes to identify a Contractor with the capacity to provide high quality positive behavior support services (PBS) to adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities. The Contractor shall be selected through a competitive application process.
- C.2.5 Positive behavior support is an approach to addressing challenging behavior that focuses on changing the person's environment and ameliorating the person's skill deficits so that the person is able to have his/her needs met without having to resort to challenging behavior. In contrast to reactive behavioral interventions, positive behavior supports are based on insight into that which is motivating a person's difficult behavior and preventing problem behaviors by changing situations and events that trigger behaviors.
- C.2.6 Positive behavior supports seek to understand the function, or purpose, of challenging behavior and factors that maintain a person's challenging behavior. PBS is based on functional analyses or functional behavioral assessments that clearly describe behaviors. The functional assessment describes the behavior, environmental factors, and setting events that predict the behavior, in order to guide the development of effective support plans. The functional behavioral assessment includes:
- C.2.5.1 a description of the problem behavior
 - C.2.5.2 identification of events, times and situations that predict problem behavior
 - C.2.5.3 identification of consequences that maintain behavior
 - C.2.5.4 collection of direct observational data

Positive Behavior Support Interventions (PBS) for Adults with Intellectual Disabilities

- C.2.5.5 identification of alternative behaviors that could replace the problem behavior as determined through direct observation or standardized behavioral assessment instruments
 - C.2.5.6 a hypothesis about the purpose of the behavior.
 - C.2.5.7 Behavior support interventions ameliorate skill deficits by teaching adaptive alternatives to undesirable behavior and redesign the environment to make the problem behavior unnecessary.
- C.2.7 Changes in setting events or antecedents are preferred by PBS rather than responding to the behavior after it occurs, which is often less effective for preventing future behavior.

C.3 REQUIREMENTS*C.3.1 EXPERTISE AND QUALIFICATIONS

- C.3.1.1 The Contractor shall hire and maintain four (4) licensed professionals and two paraprofessional trainers with the following qualifications:
- C.3.1.2 The Contractor shall have clinical psychologists who are licensed in both the District of Columbia and Maryland.
