Services for Adults with Developmental Disabilities in DC: Learn What the New Law Says

Adults with developmental disabilities with significant long-term support needs will be eligible for services from the Developmental Disabilities Administration of DC's Department on Disability Services. Join us to learn more about what the new law says, and how services can be used to support adults with developmental disabilities to live self-directed lives in DC communities.

We will be joined by DC Councilmember Brianne K. Nadeau, Chair, Committee on Human Services, and DDS Director Andrew Reese.

Interpretation will be provided in Spanish, Amharic, and American Sign Language (ASL), with captions in English. For additional accessibility requests, please contact ucedd@georgetown.edu or call 202-687-8807 by May 12th.
