Join us in celebrating disability awareness and youth voice! Participating youth will have opportunities to LEARN, LEAD, and ACT.

Youth Program:

Through youth-led workshops, performances, and other activities, DC high school youth with IEPs are equipped with the knowledge, skills, and abilities to lead self-determined lives, network with professionals and peers, and become leaders in their schools and communities. This year's conference will feature performances by youth and professional artists and take participants on a journey behind the scenes to explore careers in event planning and the arts.

Family Program:

Parents, guardians, caregivers, and loved ones learn about organizations that support youth in the transition process, expand their role, and ask questions about transition.

Registration will start in January 2019.
